THE EBIRCS

BILDGEPORT UNIVERSITY WAMPUS CEEKLY

BILDGEPORT, CON., APRIL 1, 1951

Kevin Broadman, UB's Boy HERO, Routs Red Forces

Kevin Broadman, onetime boy student at the University, has been proclaimed a national hero, according to a late press release from the Unarmed Forces. Br. Broadman was the first in a series of experiments to conquer the enemy by the use of psychology. After extensive training he began to write his material, namely his stories, to be used against the enemy.

He was flown to the Korean front and from there flown over the enemy lines where he parachuted to the ground. Upon landing, he began to read his stories aloud and kept asking if they liked it. Within the first hour, he drove one captain and two interpreters insane. He read through thick and thin, driving the Red forces before him.

Within three days he was driving thousands of troops before him. It was reported by patrols that the Reds were pleading for mercy and begged the Americans for protection. Mr. Broadman was the direct cause of a mass surrender of over 50,000 men.

Because of his heroic action he has been proclaimed "King Nudge." The Unarmed Forces have recommended that he be given the supreme title of "The Greatest Menace of All Time." President Palsey and Dr. Big Pasture have expressed their great joy in that he was put to some use in this world. One of his professors, Dr. Roar Check, stated in a recent interview that he was amazed at Mr. Broadman's action. He added that he hoped they would keep him in Korea.

Aniram Waiters Hired by 'Winnie'

Good news for dormitory students! Those who eat in Aniram Hall will be served by waiters now being hired by Miss Winnie Templevalley. Other changes to take place include a trapeze outfit to be installed in the lounge for after-dinner entertainment. Trained gorillas will be in the dining hall to instruct the students in the technique of proper table manners.

This change has been brought about by the student who screams across the hall, "hay you dis is da greatest" and heaves a carton of milk through the air, accompanied by a piercing scream.

Nudges Drop Faculty In Favor of Gorillas

All faculty members will be released as of the end of the semester, it has been announced by Nudge Beed. In keeping with its plans to cut down on operating expenses so that the school can field a basketball team next semester under the eye of Coach Bill Football, Jr., trained gorillas will be hired to take the place of the faculty.

Classes will be held under the trees so that the faculty will be kept happy. They will be housed in the spacious quarters of the Loyola Snack Bar.

Many other schools have cut down on the number of faculty members, so you teachers shouldn't be hurt. Just try to realize that competent replacements will be made in all cases.

Only One Of Its Kind In The World

UB'S NEWEST MASCOT will be bespectacled Miss Big Deer. Miss Deer, the only known animal of her species to wear spectacles, comes to us from the world famous private collection of Sir Clyde O'Zilch III. Mr. Al Snickerson commenting on her arrival on campus stated "This is just what I need for my christ-mass pageant."

Library Gets Hold of Timely Books

Fones Library has received many additions from generous contributors, it was announced today by Mr. Dry Ice. Among the many books donated are, two volumes of Mickey Mouse Comics from the library of Lord Petigrew Mouse III, one well-worn copy of "Forever Amber" from Seaside Hall, a collection of old joke books from Bill O'Brien, two copies of "How to Shorten Your Years in College," donated by Bill Desmond.

Pres. Palsey has donated a book on "Why Gentlemen Prefer Blondes".

For those who plan to enter the service Mr. Mallen, better known as the little general, has presented the library with a copy of "You, too, Can Become a General". Mr. Mallen said, "Everyone should read this book and they will find themselves up the well-known creek without the proper means of locomotion."

Mr. John Bergundy has given a book that should be on every student's desk, "The Art of Brewing Beer".

Waldemere Hall has given a book entitled, "Hot Tips on Exams," and another one, "We were Led Oc the Deep End."

Southport Hall has donated a series of pamphlets on the topic of "How to Use Salt Water to Best Advantage in the Shower." The foreword was written by Miss Alexix Meekasneeze.

Pick Up Pictures Promptly

Pictures are available for the following individuals: 3J62905, 4Q99630, 12736809.

Please pick them up from Mr. Pimento at the Public Relations office at your first break. Passes will be issued by your yard captain.

For the sports-minded person there is now a copy of "A Dog Is a Man's Best Friend", available through the courtesy of Mr. Clown.

Other additions are: "Never Too Busy for One More Job," by Norden Hahn, "Care of Old Cars," by Ralph Hardy, and an extremely interesting book on "How to Keep People Awake in Class," donated by Mr. Lamberlain.

Dr. Josey Roar Check has given four of his latest books entitled: "Government Today—What Is It?"

For those interested in what is happening all over the campus and want to learn how, read "The Walls Have Ears," donated by Mrs. Dark of Lilford Hall. Other books donated are a "Book on Wrestling" given by Ferri Teldman.

Students Go On Strike And Refuse To Fall Over

"Many University of Bilgeport students are dying and refusing to fall over after they are dead." This startling statement was made by Dr. Harry Hecker, assistant mascot of UB. Dr. Hecker ranted on to say "Such practice must cease immediately! On or after April 15, 1951, any student found sitting up, standing up, or leaning against a wall after he or she is dead, will be dropped from class lists at once."

Palsey To Become Absolute Dictator Of Psycho Dept.

At a meeting of the UB psychology department, President Palsey announced that he would control the chair through his ex-officio position of Grand Dragon.

After a hard session of tongue-lashing, it was decided that professors should be seen and not heard.

Almost at once, Mr. Hershel Daleier jumped to his feet (from his prone position) and proceeded to expound upon his subject of equal right for psycho instructors.

At the end of his speech, Mr. Daleier asked whether or not the Grand Dragon knew what a psychologist was. With fire and smoke spouting from his nostrils, Herr Grand Dragon made the never-to-be-forgotten statement: "Sir," he said with an almost filthy snicker, "a psychologist is a person who, when you're starting to go crazy, helps you."

Enraged as he was, Mr. Clown pranced up to the top of a nearby pinball machine and shrieked, "Yoiks, gadzooks, and zounds, sir. Have you no respect for our knowledge?"

To which President Palsey answered "NO."

Marks Still 'Due'

"Mid-semester grades will be issued at the latest by next Christmas," it was stated this week by Mr. Corn Flakes of the Public Relations office.

"It is the fervent hope of the Records Office," he added, "that they be out by Thanksgiving, when the Records Office closes for the annual tour of Canada, which all employees of the University attend."

Summer Schedule To Get Uplift

The Council of Nudges of the University of Bridgeport have announced additions to the Summer curriculum. Added to the present academic agenda are Bridge 203, Basketweaving 405 (for majors only), Mattress Testing 101, Sunbathing 202, and Dice Lab 213. The latter will be taught by Professors Costello and Adonis. If enough interest is shown in Anatomy 216, taught through the Braille system, it will be offered. This course has an evening lab.

Because of the move, many unnecessary courses will be dropped. There will be no more English taught. This will be to the delight of the English A majors. Instead, the subject of nature studies will be taken up, with a lab.

Whenever it can be proven that the student is being supported by a typewriter, desk, or any other University property, an additional penalty will be added.

The following procedure has been dreamed up and will be strictly adhered to. If, after several hours, it is noted that the student has not moved or otherwise changed his or her position, the instructor will investigate by patient inquiry and observation. Because of the sensitive nature of the students, and the close resemblance between death and their natural working attitude, the investigation is to be made quietly so as not to disturb the student if he happens to be asleep. If some doubt arises as to the true condition of the worker, this office must be notified at once by a notary sojak and signed by the Dean of Students.

Great care must be used by the instructor for the student may be merely in a lunch-time coma (after drinking snack bar "coffee". Don't let this fool you!

In all cases, a sworn statement must be made on the special form AC-47859302. Fifteen copies must be made. Three copies are to be sent to the Records office, three to Student housing, three to the Grand Dragon's office, three to my office, with the remaining copies to go to the corpse.

Hystaria Hall Scene Of Faculty Blob; Big Pasture Talks

Last Sunday afternoon in Hystaria Hall, Dr. Big Pasture delivered a no-nothing speech to the University's nowhere faculty. President Palsey opened the boring afternoon with a short speech. It lasted two hours by approximate figuring of our sleepy reporter. During this stirring speech, he said, "This is a memorable occasion and I am pleased to see so much feminine pulchritude present." At this, he paused, forgetting his memorized speech.

A humorous touch was added when, at this point, Nudge Beed whispered, "Say a big word quick. Use delicatessen." When President Palsey did this, a perplexed look came over the majority present. They were stupified. They had not heard such a long word since escaping from the fourth grade.

Refreshments were served, or shall we say spilled, by Queen Recker.

Other members of the faculty present were Mr. and Mrs. Woof, Lester A. Brain, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pimento, Mr. Hairy A. Necker, Mr. Smiley Gooer, Mr. David Clown.

This scene is our artist's conception of the faculty soiree held last Sunday at Hystaria Hall. Left to right are: prone, Dr. Housemiller; standing, Dr. Knuffmpler; prone again, Dr. Watterman; kneeling, Mr. Greenthumb. Refreshments were enjoyed by all who attended.

RAVING REPORTER

by Claire Pepperwoman

In order to bring the news to you, we have recorded conversations all over the campus. Our reporter has risked his life in gathering this information.

Overheard in the faculty lounge was the following conversation:

Professor: Don't put that money in your mouth dear, there's germs on it.
Wife: Don't be silly—even a germ can't live on the money you earn.

The following conversation was overheard in the Scribe office:

Visitor: Do you have to be careful of what you print about the school?

Editor: As careful as a nudist crossing a barbed wire fence.

Recently Pres. Palsey was caught fishing before the season opened. Our reporter was hiding in the bushes when the game warden approached. The following conversation took place.

Warden: Fishing?
Pres. Palsey: No, just drowning worms.

Overheard at faculty outing recently:

Faculty Wife: Is your husband a bookworm?

Other Wife: No, just an ordinary one.

Conversation in criminology class.
Professor: Who was the biggest gambler of all time?

Student: Lady Godiva was the biggest—she put all she had on one horse.

Overheard by our reporter in the back seat of a car in Seaside Park:

Freshman: I'm a man—I've got hair on my chest.

Girl who has been at UB two years: So has Lassie.

Recently a tour was conducted through the chemistry department. An observant spectator said: The walls of this room are covered with spots.

Instructor: The last student was an inventor. He invented an explosive.

Spectator: Oh, the spots on the walls are explosive?

Instructor: No, the student was.

Overheard in a girls' dorm:

House Mother: Is it true, Miss El-derleigh, that you are going to be married soon?

UB Coed: Well, no, it isn't. But I am grateful for the rumor.

Conversation in creative writing class:

Prof: I suppose you wrote that yourself?

Kevin: Yes, sir.

Prof: You should be encouraged.

Kevin: Yes, sir.

Prof: You should go to Hollywood.

Kevin: Yes, sir.

Prof: And you should climb the highest mountain.

Kevin: Yes, sir.

Prof: And drop off!

This concludes our printable scoop that we have gathered. If you have nothing better to do than to read this trash, you are just crazy as the person who wrote it.
